

UDC 432
LBC 68.9 (Укр)
Pi 32

Reviewers:

Assoc. Prof. Tadeusz Ambroży,
Ph.D.

Assoc. Prof. Antoni Olak, Ph.D.
Doc. Vasyl Zaplatynskyi, CSc.

Juliusz Piwowarski. Uniformed Services' Ethics: Psychological, Social and Legal Aspects. – Lviv: SPOLOM, 2016. - 344 p.

This work is a renewed edition of the book that so far has appeared in the Slovak Republic under the title Police Officer's Ethics. However, in this case it is addressed to a Ukrainian reader, at the moment when Ukrainian people and their state initiated the process of association with the European Union. The author feels honored being able to publish his work in scientific co-operation with his Ukrainian colleagues.

©Assoc. Prof. Juliusz Piwowarski, Ph.D., 2016

©"SPOLOM", 2016

ISBN: 978-966-919-112-0

CONTENTS

From the author	5
Preface	9
Chapter 1 Initial Considerations.....	13
Chapter 2 The Police Officer's Ethics Rules as a number of Special Administration	29
Chapter 3 Ideas Have Consequences	128
Chapter 4 Ideas in a Psychophysical Training Phase ..	144
Chapter 5 The Chosen Elements of the Philosophy of Law and Administration.....	173
Chapter 6 The Administration and Management Theory - Organizational Values and Culture	200
Chapter 7 The Concept of ideal bureaucracy according to Max Weber and what Robert Merton has to say about it.....	229
Chapter 8 The Far Eastern Aspects of Ethics in Administration and Management	273
Conclusion	309
Bibliography	313